HUNTSVILLE, ON, February 18, 2014 – March Break travel time can be filled with busy line ups and airport hassles. With the Loonie continuing to fall, staying close to home is becoming a more attractive way to stretch your vacation dollars. At Deerhurst, a Skyline Resort, there are plenty of options for both indoor and outdoor fun that give families a much needed break without bending their budget.

“You don’t need to travel down south to have a relaxing vacation this March Break,” says Chris Lund, General Manager. “There is a lot to discover in your own backyard and Deerhurst has something for everyone in the family to enjoy.”

No matter the weather, Deerhurst’s indoor PlayZone (open March 7-16) guarantees non-stop fun with over 11,000 square feet of amusements including inflatables, mini putt and Xbox Kinect stations. Kids can also enjoy the resort’s indoor rock climbing wall, aquatic themed pool and Stargazers’ Ridge arcade. For mom and dad, there’s even a lounge area to relax in while the family lets loose.

Guests can also take to the great outdoors with Deerhurst’s four-legged friends by experiencing horseback riding, sleigh or wagon rides or the very popular Kids’n Ponies and Kids’n Critters programs. More adventurous family members can try their hand at winter Tree Top Trekking, paintball, or go for a guided snowshoe, snowmobile tour, or take in the slopes at nearby Hidden Valley Highlands Ski Area (home of Olympic Gold medalist Slopestyle skier, Dara Howell). Whatever the weather, there are lots of options for fun.

All throughout March, Deerhurst’s Eclipse restaurant will tempt taste buds with a maple menu that features maple syrup from the resort’s own production. A rare treat, guests can drop by the on-site sugar shack during March Break to see the operation up-close and take home a bottle of Deerhurst syrup from the General Store.

With 425 guest rooms ranging from newly renovated main building rooms, to fully equipped one, two and three-bedroom condos, Deerhurst Resort accommodates families of all sizes. And with 20 per cent off bookings on three nights or more, it’s easy for guests to stay longer and save over March Break.
